22 Significant Program Accomplishments

OPTIONAL: Please describe any significant accomplishments achieved by your program during the reporting period.

Maximum Characters: 2000

The City of Ontario was able to assist a total of 148 households with Homelessness Prevention assistance and 52 households with Rapid Re-Housing assistance throughout the life of its HPRP programs. Homelessness Prevention clients had virtually a 100% success rate of being stably housed at program exit. Among the Rapid Re-Housing clients served was a population of chronically homeless who had experienced homelessness over several years with an average annual income of less than $4,000 and in many cases no income. The program achieved a success rate of 50% among this population after providing medium-term rental assistance and intensive case management. Some of the most difficult to house clients from this population group were able to remain stably housed with no ongoing subsidy, and in some cases were reunified with family members.

23 Program Description

Describe the following elements of the HPRP program design and implementation.
Include any changes made since the beginning of the program.

What barriers did you face with establishing effective outreach strategies and targeting rapid re-housing assistance for persons who were literally homeless? Were you able to overcome these and, if so, in what ways?

The City of Ontario did not experience any barriers with outreach and targeting rapid re-housing assistance. This assistance was directed to individuals and households who were literally homeless at the time the assistance was provided, many of whom were already receiving a variety of homeless services within our community.

What barriers did you face with establishing effective outreach strategies and targeting homelessness prevention assistance for persons who “but for” the assistance would have become literally homeless? Were you able to overcome these barriers and, if so, in what ways?

The City of Ontario did not experience any barriers with outreach and targeting homelessness prevention assistance. Our program established criteria and risk factors that helped to ensure that the assistance was targeted to those households who "but for" the assistance would have become homeless.

What changes were made to your HPRP program(s) during the past 3 years (e.g., changes in outreach and targeting, changes in eligibility restrictions imposed locally, changes in providers based on performance, etc.) and why?

After the first year of the program, the City of Ontario changed its rapid re-housing program to provide medium-term direct financial assistance to chronically homeless individuals. This change was made in response to the growing need in the community to find some longer lasting assistance to this population.

What approach(es) did you use to ensure that program participants received the right amount of assistance for the right amount of time?

The City of Ontario's Homelessness Prevention Program was targeted to households who only needed a small amount of assistance to re-establish stability after a crisis, such as unforeseen car repairs, income loss, or medical expenses. This approach allowed the City to serve more households who were at risk of becoming homeless. The Rapid Re-Housing Program was targeted to homeless individuals who needed longer term assistance to help establish an income stream, or stabilize their lives to reconnect with their support networks.

What strategies did you use that were most effective at increasing housing stability?

The City's programs aimed to provide an adequate amount of assistance to as many households as possible while evaluating the assistance and programs that would lead to housing stability. The program experience found that the aftercare services provided during/after assistance was provided resulted in increasing housing stability.

How will your HPRP program transition to ESG? What will be the greatest 1-3 challenges and what is your approach to resolving them?

Although, the HPRP programs were deemed highly successful, the current funding levels are insufficient to support a program of similar design with intensive case management under ESG. The City is evaluating other funding sources that may be utilized to provide medium to long-term rental assistance for homeless individuals and families.
